Duty of Fair Presentation - General duty of disclosure obligations for Commercial customers

You are required to make a fair presentation of the risk to an insurer which discloses material facts or circumstances about the risk(s) you want to insure. A material fact or circumstance is something that would influence the judgement of a prudent insurer in deciding whether or not to insure the risk or on what terms.

This includes disclosing:

- Information known by your firm's senior management and those responsible for arranging your insurance; and
- Information that would be revealed by a reasonable search of information available to you or by making enquiries, and could include information held within your business or by someone else (such as your insurance broker).

Material representations of fact must be substantially correct and material representations of expectation/belief must be made in good faith.

Remember that if you fail to meet this duty, it could mean that the policy is void, or that the insurer is not liable to pay all or part of your claim(s). Please be aware that if any of your details, material facts or circumstances change during the policy period, you must always notify us immediately.

The duty of disclosure may be different if your policy is subject to a law other than England and Wales, Scotland or Northern Ireland. In such cases you must still disclose all material facts or circumstances which are relevant to your policy and you are expected to disclose information in accordance with the requirements of the applicable law.
